Ike Proposes Nuclear Talks With Russia

Eisenhower is proposing to Premiler Khrushchev that the United States, Russia and some other countries begin talks at once on a dystem for policing an International weapons testing.

Elsenhower has dispatched a letter to Khrushchev through the U.S. embassy in Moscow. The White House said it would be made public today, In advance of publication, officials were reluctant to discuss any details of the President's propos al. But they described it as a posttive response to Khrushchev's agreement in a letter of two weeks ago to undertake such technical discussions by scientific ex-

The task of the experts would be to work out a means of detect ing any secret nuclear explosions Available detection means include measuring radioactivity in the atmosphere and recording shock waves in the earth's surface. U.S. officials long have argued that an effective enforcement system would require the stationing of international scientific teams with the most modern equipment on the territory of both Russia and the United States. They say also that these teams would have to have authority to travel to any spote where their instruments indicated the possibility of a nuclear explosion, and make inves-

In his letter, Khrushchev told Eisenhower that "the Soviet gov ernment is agreed to have either side appoint experts who should immediately start work on studying the means of detecting possible violations of an agreement to end nuclear tests, with the proviso that work should be completed in the shortest term agreed upon beforehand."

Describes Recovery of Missile Cone

WASHINGTON IN - DRWEY Short, assistant secretary of the Army, loday described last Sunday's 1,600 mile flight of the Army's Jupiter missile and recovery of its hose come as the greatest breakthrough yet in missile development.

Appeiring before the House Armed Services Committee which he formerly headed as a Republican congressman from Missouri, Short told his pne-time colleagues the performance of the Jupiter shows "inat we have thrust, accuracy and the ability to bring a warhead back from outer space on target." "It is more significant than all the Sputniks, Explorers and other developments put together," he

The comment on the Jupiter performance was a departure from Short's prepared testiniony in a hearing on proposals for milltary construction in the year stheting July 1.

maps does seem a bit strange. In but, over the years, be improved, past years, we do not recall secing such a prolonged succession of cold fronts in some cases extending clear across the nation and well down into the deep south. Naturally, we wonder why.

Florida has taken a real beating from such adverse weather conditions, Packing houses in Florida normally swarming with busy men this time of year, were closed in March, Avocado and citrus groves were indeed pillful sights - brown leaves and dead trees, all killed by freezing temperatures.

Down in the Keys, there were three - exactly three - good fishing days during March; the 3rd, 4th and 29th. The rest of the days had winds, cloudy days, and rain - all this in what normally is the nicest time of the year in south Florida.

The fishing guides, particularly the binefish and tarpon guides, were especially hard-hit. Day affer day, men who normally are busy from down 'til dark during 'the season' could be found silting around the docks and the fishing enmps, bundled up in woolen shirts their engagements 'cancelled out' and, in many cases, their customers gone north.

As I say, there must be a reasin for such abnormalities. We wish that some forthright meleorologist would take pen in hand and give us the low-down.
